

Short-Bio

Dr. Hidayet Sıddıkođlu works as a Director at BILIM, Organization for Research and Social Studies, a non-profit organization based in Kabul, Afghanistan. His main research interest is Migration studies with a particular focus on conflict-induced displacements in Afghanistan. Previously, he worked as a Director of the Department of Research and Training Need Assessment at the Afghanistan Civil Service Institute. He has also worked as a Deputy for the Research Department at the Dunya University of Afghanistan. Additionally, Dr. Sıddıkođlu has worked in a number of development and humanitarian projects funded by different UN agencies in Afghanistan. Dr. Sıddıkođlu completed his PhD from Hiroshima University. He has received his first master's degree in Development Science from Hiroshima University and a second degree in international security from the University of Leicester, United Kingdom.